PRACTICAL RECONSTRUCTION.—The Boston Advertiser says:

"It has been known for years that Missouri and Western Virginia and Kentucky contain some of the best land on the continent, and they are all rich in mineral productions, but the tide of emigration never has and never will set towards a slave State while free Territory is open. In all of those States there have been efforts to improve the agricultural, the coal and mineral lands, and for the last, companies have long been in operation. But they have no great energy, but little capital and no credit, and have often resulted in failure. In addition to this, the war has operated most disastrously in many regions. Now all is changed, and there are already strong indications of active and energetic operations by business men who have the necessary capital, and who understand the theory of republican institutions.

"It is well known that several gentlemen of this city and vicinity recently visited Western Virginia, and were so much struck with the richness of the coal formations on the Kanawha River, that they bought out on the spot all the property of a company that had been in operation several years, consisting of a large quantity of land and extensive works for manufacturing oil. They forthwith organized a new company under the laws of Virginia, and are actually carrying on the works, although three weeks have not elapsed since the purchase. Arrangements have already been made for a colony of Welshmen, some of whom are now on their way thither."

A loafer in Virginia City, who had probably been reading the Examiner, was arrested for vagrancy, and thus gave vent to his injured feeling.

"I know what them fellers are about," said he to a sympathiser, referring to the policemen who had arrested him. "They are Black Republicans. They don't arrest any of their own party, I notice. The election is coming on, and they are snatching all the influential Democrats in town for the purpose of breaking up the Democratic party. It's a trick of the Union League. If they're authorized to arrest me for vagrancy, they'll have two-thirds of the Democratic party in the chain gang before the election. It won't do," continued Forth, waxing wrothy and important, "it's a blow at constitutional liberty—a contemptible Abolition trick to rob Democrats of the right of suffrage."

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS,
Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,
GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above-mentioned, and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease in any way connected with the disorder or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revivified and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man, he stands erect, he moves with a firm step, his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom or an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active, and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor. The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases, and you will ever give praise to

[illegible] THE STATE

THURSDAY MORNING, AUGUST 17, 1865

The Indians on the Plains

F[illegible] months [illegible] the [illegible] way of the plains has been wholly [illegible] parties who [illegible] with [illegible]. The Indians have [illegible] for [illegible] and [illegible] far [illegible] masters of the situation. The [illegible] them [illegible] do not come through at all [illegible] the delay [illegible] while the Indians [illegible] by the result of the irregular and desultory fighting that has taken place between their own vast [illegible] and the [illegible] are apparently further than ever [illegible] any intention to retire from the field or to cease their savage warfare. The campaign against them is proceeding so slowly, and we may [illegible] whether it is intended to conduct it with any vigor at all. On other [illegible] Gen. Connor has done his work in earnest, but in the present campaign he exhibits a tardiness which an Indian fighter must exchange for activity, if he hopes for success. He has quite men enough to defeat or even to annihilate any force of Indians which can be collected between the Missouri river and the Pacific, but so far, no considerable or important movement has been made. The season is wearing rapidly away, and it begins to look as if nothing more is to be done or attempted until another year. The tactics which distinguished the army of the Potomac under the leadership of McClellan seem now to prevail in the army commanded by Gen. Connor, and it appears to be thought that no movement can be made unless it be done in strict compliance with military rules and in exact accordance with the principles laid down by Jomini or Halleck. It seems to be deemed necessary first to make the greatest preparations, just as if a campaign were to be directed against a powerful and skillful adversary, and in the next place, to move with the utmost precision and greatest circumspection, just as if he were ready to take advantage of the slightest departure from military rules, to the utter destruction of the force opposing him. So long as this course is adhered to nothing will be done against the Indians. They are not going to be led into a pitched battle against a force equal, or nearly equal to their own. The only method by which they can be reached is by proceeding in the way which successful Indian fighters have ever taken, and by disregarding the restrictive rules which regulate what is called scientific warfare.

In the meantime, this tardy course, besides being very expensive to the Government, is a source of great annoyance and loss to the whole country west of the Missouri. For some years we had been in almost daily communication with the East and the business of this coast had conformed to this new and convenient arrangement. Our mails, in large part, had ceased to come by sea and were being carried overland. The result of the present interruption on the plains is that we do not get them at all. And as things looks just now, there is little promise of improvement. We are told that the army cannot move for want of supplies. This is probably true, if it is intended to conduct the campaign on settled military principles. If Gen. Connor is going to have a regular base of supplies and march his troops in a body alongside of a slow, cumbersome wagon train, we had just as well give up at once all hopes of seeing the Indians subdued this year, or indeed for years to come.

Works both Ways.—A lot of fellows from the South who are overjoyed at the declaration of President Johnson that each of the States hereafter as heretofore, shall have the right to regulate their own local concerns, prescribe the conditions of suffrage, &c., recently came up to Washington, complaining that they had been disfranchised by the loyal Legislatures of their States and asking the General Government to intervene in their behalf. The President informed them that he could take no action in the premises, for the reason that the matter they complained of was a thing wholly within the jurisdiction of the State authorities. These ex-rebels invariably get the same answer which is presented to the strenuous advocates for negro suffrage, viz: That both these and similar questions are matters which the General Government cannot undertake to decide. Thus these too late repentant rebels find that their darling theory of State rights is not always a shield for them, but that it may become a sword in the hands of their opponents. A while ago they were in the insurrectionary army too intently engaged in their treasonable and bloody work to take heed of what was going on in their respective States, and all this time the loyal men there were employed in restoring loyal Governments, in making laws for their own protection and in providing that absent rebels should never return to enjoy the privileges they had renounced. And when those who are now complaining of having been disfranchised, left the rebel army and went to their old homes, in many instances they found themselves placed under disabilities more severe than those imposed on aliens in any country. The President tells them that he can no more help them in their extremity, than he can confer the right of suffrage on the blacks, and that they must look to their States for redress. Here we have the doctrine of State rights working the other way. In the phase it has thus assumed, its admirers will probably see little in it to applaud. There is no hope for these disfranchised rebels except to go completely through the purgatory of penance and humiliation.

Rebel Cruelty to Prisoners.—H. S. Foote, formerly of rebeldom, but now a sojourner at Montreal, writes a letter which is published in the Eastern papers, and which confirms all previous statements about the cruel treatment of our prisoners by the rebels. Foote shows that the rebel authorities at Richmond were responsible for the horrid cruelty. He states further, that the rebel Commissary General addressed a letter to Seddon, the Secretary of War, proposing to withhold meat from the prisoners, and that Seddon indorsed the document. Among the officers of the rebel Government it was perfectly understood, according to Foote's statement, that the unfortunate men were to be so reduced by starvation that they would ever thereafter be wholly unfit for military duty. The purpose in short, was [illegible] death by slow degrees. Ould, the rebel Commissioner of Exchange, Foote asserts knew all about the inhuman scheme. The rebel House of Representatives endeavored to suppress investigation into the facts. Foote says he was not on intimate terms with Jeff. Davis, and [illegible] was not made aware that any Cabinet meeting was ever held at Richmond to decide upon pursuing this barbarous course, but he states that the terrible sufferings of our prisoners at Andersonville were well known last winter by all the rebel authorities and this horrible brutality acquiesced in, seemingly in conformity with a settled plan.

The whole country knows that tens of thousands of brave men died under the cruel treatment to which they were subjected. Foote tells us that he knows this demoniacal scheme had the approbation of the rebel Government. And yet there are men in the North whose presence is tolerated here just as we tolerate any curse which cannot easily be gotten rid of, who in addition to being traitors to their country are so far traitors to civilization and humanity as to apologize for these [illegible] and for the fiends who committed them.

The $20,000 Clause.—A dispatch [illegible] Washington [illegible] the following relative to [illegible] Amnesty Proclamation:

[illegible] William H. [illegible] representatives of [illegible] of Virginia, who wished him [illegible] the amnesty proclamation [illegible] the $20,000 clause. They represented that this feature interfered with the [illegible] and [illegible] money in the Northern [illegible] States they were [illegible] $20,000 [illegible] not be [illegible] give work to the poor [illegible].

The President [illegible] that the amnesty proclamation [illegible] the [illegible] that the amnesty proclamation [illegible] no [illegible] persons. Would they like to have the amnesty proclamation [illegible] altogether? Would they feel any [illegible] that case?

One of the Deputation.—No; but it would answer a very much better end to extend the benefits of the proclamation to persons worth over $20,000.

The President replied that in making that exception he had [illegible] the natural supposition that men had aided the rebellion according to the extent of their pecuniary means. Did they not know this?

One of the deputation.—No, I did not know it.

The President.—Why yes you do; you know perfectly well it was the wealthy men of the South who dragooned the people into secession. I lived in the South, and I know how the thing was done. Your State was overwhelmingly opposed to secession, but your rich men used the press and bullies and your little army to force the state into secession. Take the $20,000 clause. Suppose a man worth more than that now, the war is over and the chances are ten to one that he made it out of the rebellion by contracts, etc. We might as well talk plainly all of this matter. I don't think you are so very anxious about relieving the poor; why don't you take the surplus over the $20,000 you own and give it to them? In that way you help them and bring yourself within the benefits of the proclamation. I am free to say to you that I think some of you ought to be taxed on all over $20,000 to help the poor. When I was Military Governor of Tennessee I assessed such taxes on those who had been wealthy leaders of the rebellion, and it had a good effect.

One of the Deputation.—It so happens that none of us were leaders. We stood out as long as we could, and were the last to go in.

The President.—Frequently those who went in last were the worst after they got in. But, so that you may understand me, gentlemen, I do not say this personally. I am just speaking of the general working of the matter. I know there has been an effort among some to persuade the people that the amnesty proclamation was injuring them by shutting up capital and keeping work from the poor. It does no such thing. If that is done at all it is done in consequence of the violation of law and the commission of treason. The President concluded by saying that he would look at the papers they presented, but, so far, had seen no reason for removing the thirteenth exception.

Persecuted by their Friends.—The Wheeling Intelligencer relates how that certain persons who have been off from home engaged in a little enterprise against their Government, on their return find themselves badly used by their own former friends. The Intelligencer says:

It appears that some of the returning prodigals of Marion county are not receiving very handsome treatment from their friends in that locality, and from whom they expected better things. Instead of killing the fatted calf and rejoicing over their return, they have entered suits against them and, in some instances are having them prosecuted for horse stealing. One has already been convicted and sentenced to confinement in the penitentiary in this city. This is certainly very ungenerous on the part of the would be Southern gentlemen, who were so sanguine in their belief in the success of the rebel cause, and who used their influence to get these poor dupes to take up arms in its behalf. Of course these innocents, when they found opportunity to make raids into Marion, very justly supposed that their friends of their cause would be willing to contribute a horse occasionally to aid in its support. But these just expectations have been doomed to meet with a bitter and unexpected disappointment. Now that they have been conquered, these chivalrous friends instead of meeting them with open arms, and sympathising with them in their sorrow and defeat cast them aside with contempt and mete out to them the punishment due to felons. Such treatment from "vile Yankees" might have been endured, but coming from the noble, generous and high toned is unbearable, how can it be borne? Who would have believed it? But, alas! such is the fact, and it cannot be gainsaid. We know no remedy for you, Confeds, but to walk up and settle with your friends for the horses you borrowed. Perhaps they will be willing to receive Confederate scrip in payment for the debt.

Discharged from Custody.—Ferd Patterson, the assassin of Mr. Pinkham of Idaho City, it is said, has been discharged. This is the manner in which the "Democracy" administer justice. Had the circumstances been precisely reversed and Pinkham killed Patterson nothing could have prevented the "Democracy" of Idaho City from taking the slayer's life. These "Democrats" have been following out the line of conduct dictated by their party press. A little while ago they wanted the assassins of Mr. Lincoln released, urging that these villains had "acted under a sense of duty" in taking the good man's life: now in the case of another murder under circumstances scarcely less aggravated, they discharge an [illegible] from custody because they deem it no [illegible] to kill an "Abolitionist." In Idaho where "Democracy" dominates this course of things may be expected to prevail. In that Territory the dregs and [illegible] or [illegible] all as it in a similar case, the [illegible] or bilge water of the whole country is collected, and to expect to find justice administered among this "Democratic" rabble is as idle as the search for honesty in the works of the father of lies.

The New Army.—The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer makes the following statements, which may or not be true:

It is probable the regular army, or permanent military establishment of the country, will be organized on the following basis: General officers—one General, five Lieutenant Generals, fifty Major Generals and seventy five Brigadier Generals. The regular army proper to be composed of nineteen regiments of infantry, six regiments of cavalry and five regiments of artillery, all filled up to the maximum number; besides these fifty thousand colored troops will be retained with the regiments filled up to the maximum number.

Hancock's corps will be increased to a full corps of three divisions and three brigades, of about thirty thousand men. The veteran reserve corps, twenty five regiments filled up to the maximum number.

The medical staff will be increased to one hundred full surgeons, with a corresponding number of assistant surgeons.

The infantry and cavalry regiments of the regular army comprise three battalions of eight hundred men each.

Under the proposed arrangements the total strength of the army will be nearly as follows: Regular infantry 45,600; regular cavalry 14,400; regular artillery 12,000; colored troops 50,000; Hancock's corps 30,000; veteran reserve corps 20,000; total 172,000.

Walla Walla.—The Walla Walla Statesman says the work of rebuilding up on the ground burnt over by the late fire is going on with great rapidity. The town says the Statesman, will wear a decidedly better appearance than before. Main street is being widened and a number of good buildings are going up. Nine are now in process of erection.

Another Discovery.—The Lewiston Radiator of the 9th inst. has another high sounding article on gold discoveries. The diggings are on the Palouse about sixty miles from Lewiston. Some gold has actually been obtained this time. It is quite coarse and worth $17 00 per ounce. The Radiator does not profess to know how extensive the mines are.

Mrs. Lincoln has been invited by Queen Victoria to visit England and the Navy Department has placed a steamer at her disposition should she determine to cross the ocean.

[illegible] DEPARTMENT.—We this morning publish the [illegible] of Chief Engineer of the Portland Fire Department as submitted to the City Council. It will be [illegible] contain matters of general interest to the community [illegible] shows the position the Department holds [illegible] the city. The amount of property actually [illegible] loss by fire during the year by the [illegible] Department, exceeds the aggregate amount of [illegible] for support of the Department. It is a good [illegible] when looked upon in the light of its beneficial [illegible] total losses by fires during the year amount [illegible] over $6,000, and we may be thankful [illegible] for their services. Mr. Buchtel has done [illegible] Department credit in preparing so able a [illegible] anxious that the Department should [illegible] of merit, and he is right, and we [illegible] will take action upon some of the [illegible] he has made; it will result to the interest [illegible] the city. An Ordinance for the prevention of [illegible] in the City Directory for 1865, [illegible] of Mr. Buchtel should be read in [illegible] with the report we publish this morning [illegible] or fire balls within the city is there [illegible] a certain character but it is not always [illegible] The fire in Mr. Bates' building in June [illegible] of a defective flue, and charitable [illegible] the builder of it from getting [illegible] recommendation in regard to the [illegible] These Mongolians are [illegible] because they are sharp enough [illegible] on the white race, and the man who [illegible] should be made responsible for the [illegible] to occur by their tenancy. Fire Wardens of the city [illegible] it is too much to ask of the Chief [illegible] all the business for the [illegible] be resolved. Formerly there were Wardens [illegible] who were empowered to enter every building [illegible] the city for the purpose of discovering or [illegible] of Ordinance in the manner [illegible] of flues, etc., but they do not exist [illegible] the [illegible] that work has to be done by the [illegible]

[illegible] Letters have arrived at the Portland Post [illegible] the week past, mailed in New York November [illegible] They were by the Overland route. We learn [illegible] of the large accumulation of mail [illegible] along the route east of Salt Lake, [illegible] being dug out and forwarded by [illegible] At one of the stations where this [illegible] was being picked up, a roll of greenbacks, to [illegible] was found in a dung hill, where it [illegible] out of the package. The great Overland [illegible] to us for many months. The [illegible] of all this delay and trouble [illegible] ought to scalp every one of the [illegible] the week, also, letters of three [illegible] of thirty days have arrived from the Atlantic [illegible] the great Overland route.

[illegible] Tow Over.—Speaking of the first tow of the [illegible] on the Columbia river bar the Astoria [illegible] 18th, says: The bark Almatia arrived [illegible] in tow of the Couch at 10 o'clock A. M., [illegible] instant. In about an hour the Rabboni [illegible] that to her an [illegible] If some two [illegible] feet ahead took the Almatia [illegible] The tide and wind so that in about two [illegible] the bark was out over the Bar and of the [illegible] good north west breeze to favor her [illegible] Without the tug the bark [illegible] at her anchorage till the [illegible] day, which proved to be a calm rainy day [illegible] near one hundred passengers on board, [illegible] of the tow is apparent.

[illegible]—The steamship Sierra Nevada [illegible] left this port for Victoria and San Francisco [illegible] carrying about one hundred passengers [illegible] a light freight, and treasure shipped by parties as [illegible]

[illegible]—In a suit brought by Stout & Earle [illegible] of this city, without attaching a Revenue [illegible] to the [illegible] as required by act of Congress [illegible] Judge [illegible] held the action void and dismissed [illegible] the suit for want of a stamp [illegible] he had grave doubts of the power of Congress to [illegible] of the States, but while sitting [illegible] he felt it his duty to sustain the law. The question will be appealed to the Supreme Court next month [illegible] this suit was brought [illegible]

A [illegible] FALL.—One of Long & Co's heavy truck [illegible] on Front street near Dr. Weatherford's drug store, last evening, having on the truck a heavy boiler for Mr. G. W. Vaughn's mill [illegible] The hind wheel of the truck had settled into [illegible] hole, and it was a full half hour [illegible] to be moved on. Four fine horses were employed [illegible] and they did some excellent work. A large crowd [illegible] to witness the affair and all seemed to [illegible] that it was probably the last event of the kind to happen on Front street, as the street is now being well improved.

CABLE FOR THE WILLAMETTE. The steamer Sierra Nevada brings cable for connecting the telegraph line across the river at this place. The present arrangement [illegible] fringes upon the right of individual property and [illegible] cable [illegible] will be best for the company. Mr. [illegible] who is at present at Seattle, will see to the laying of the cable.

ANNUAL PARADE. The Fire [illegible] of the city have [illegible] the fourth day of September [illegible] for their [illegible] parade. The Department will appear in full form on that occasion [illegible] of September, the Brewery will [illegible] will be given [illegible] the parade.

A CHEATER CHASED. A man named Pengra was [illegible] to the county jail yesterday [illegible] term of thirty days [illegible] received examination before Justice [illegible] charge of chasing a [illegible] through the streets with a [illegible] very suspicious that he had malice or [illegible] toward John.

MITCHELL THE MARTYR. The Daily Sun has the subjoined account of John Mitchell, the Irish vagabond. We have here a very fair description of the man, his past actions, and his villainous character:

Mitchell will be remembered [illegible] some curious [illegible] touching his parole from Australia. He went to the United States. He received shelter, welcome and generous hospitality there. He so disgusted and horrified his Irish friends by declaring himself a rampant advocate of slavery. He made himself specially repulsive because of the coarse complacency and [illegible] of his avowals on the subject. The martyr of freedom declared that his great aspiration was for a plantation of fat niggers. He went South and plotted against the Government and States which had protected him when none else would. What should we think of Mazzini were he to repay our shelter by joining in a conspiracy to destroy our government, our empire and our free political organization? This is what John Mitchell did for the United States. Such was his hatred to those who had protected him that in the bitterness of his heart against the Northern States he sometimes forgot for a moment his abhorrence of England. No Southern tongue or pen ever plandered and insulted the Government and people of the North as did the pen and tongue of the outcast whom the North had saved in his hour of peril. He sometimes honored Europe with a visit, and while residing in Paris as if to show how utterly false had been all his professions of sympathy with liberty, he devoted himself to writing articles for an Irish Ultramontane paper, in which he calumniated and denounced the efforts of the Italian patriots for the independence of their country. Returning to congenial occupation in the Capital of the slave dominion he exercised his pen in a Richmond paper by vituperation against all the Free States, against abolition, against liberty and against England.

No man it may be safely asserted did more within his range to embitter and make ferocious the struggle then going on, to rob it of all the characteristics of courtesy and chivalry, to make it as hateful and brutal in practice as it was already in principle, on the side of the South. While Meagher was leading his Irish Brigade up the hights of Fredericksburg to flood the battlefield with their gallant blood in the cause of the North, Mitchell was shrieking, hissing and spluttering through Richmond his venomous zeal for the cause of the South.

Richmond fell, and Mitchell fled. He lived to write treason another day. He sought a refuge once again in New York. He reckoned, no doubt, partly on the proverbial generosity of the people whom he had so bitterly traduced, and partly perhaps on their contempt for his ignoble and puny enmity. But it would seem that he had tried even their patience too far, and he is now in Fortress Monroe, awaiting, it is said, a charge of treason. The impudence that bore this man into New York may well be called astounding. It is lucky for him that his crimes were only committed against the Government and the people whom he so execrated and calumniated; lucky for him that his treason was not committed against the Emperor of the French, whose intervention in the cause of Ireland he once so eagerly invited. His life, no doubt, is safe enough. He will perhaps even once more have benefactors and the chance of traducing them. But, whatever his fate, England ought to feel some little interest in it. For but for our discarded system of shouting our convict rubbish into Australia, the people of North America would probably never have been vexed by the ungrateful society of John Mitchell.

OREGON'S GREAT CURIOSITY.—Several of our citizens returned last week from a visit to the Great Sunken Lake, situated in the Cascade mountains about seventy five miles northeast from Jacksonville. This lake rivals the famous valley of Sinbad the Sailor. It is thought to average 2,000 feet down to the water all round. The walls are almost perpendicular, running down into the water and leaving no beach. The depth of the water is unknown and its surface is smooth and unruffled, as it lies so far below the surface of the mountain that the air currents do not affect it. Its length is estimated at twelve miles, and its width at ten. There is an island in its center, having trees upon it. No living man ever has, and probably never will, be able to reach the water's edge. It lies silent, still and mysterious in the bosom of the "everlasting hills" like a huge well scooped out by the hands of the giant genii of the mountains, in the unknown ages gone by, and around it the primeval forests watch and ward are keeping.

The visiting party fired a rifle several times into the water, at an angle of forty five degrees, and were able to note several seconds of time from the report of the gun until the ball struck the water. Such seems incredible, but is vouched for by some of our most reliable citizens. The lake is certainly a most remarkable curiosity.—Jacksonville Sentinel.

THE COMING TRIAL.—A cousin of Jeff Davis is said to be in New York preparing for the trial of the arch rebel. O'Conor is to have the lead in the defense, upon which he enters with great animation, intending to make it the leading forensic effort of his life. A press correspondent says:

Quite a number of prominent members of the bar are engaged on "points" which are to enter into the defense, two of which are these: First. That Davis owed allegiance to his State; her laws her processes and commands must be obeyed, and if a collision exists between the State and General Government individuals cannot be punished—it must be settled by the authorities. Second, That the Federal Government, by proclamations, by laws, by exchange of prisoners, etc., have recognized, over and over again, the rebels as belligerents, which entitles all the rebel government to the rights of belligerents.

FATAL ACCIDENT. Dr. Mitchell furnishes us with the particulars of a fatal accident which occurred at Marlin's saw mill in Klickitat Valley on Sunday last. At about ten o'clock in the morning Mr. John E. Arant and a son of Mr. Marlin's got ready to go on a gaming expedition. In leaving the house the lock of young Marlin's gun in some way got caught against the side of the door, and the lock was drawn back far enough to explode the cap. The whole charge of the gun thus exploded passed through Arant's leg just below the thigh, inflicting injuries which resulted in his death. This occurred at five o'clock in the evening. Dr. Mitchell was summoned to the relief of the unfortunate man, but his injuries were such as to place him beyond medical assistance. The deceased was about twenty years of age and is understood to have a father and mother who live in the neighborhood of Roseburg, Oregon.—Mountaineer.

GERMANS AND FREE SUFFRAGE. The New York Staats Zeitung, which has the largest circulation of any German paper in the United States, has come out in favor of negro suffrage. It wishes the question left to the decision of every State. It regards a period of apprenticeship as necessary for giving to the freedmen a political education, but it calls it a "folly and perfidy to demand that men who are free be forever excluded from the right of suffrage."

BURR AND DAVIS. The Philadelphia Press, after carefully reviewing the precedents in law and fact—afforded by the case of Aaron Burr and his acquittal on the mere point of law and the bungling manner in which the case was prepared for trial, comes to the conclusion that there is no possible hope for the escape of Davis.

The building is of brick, two stories in height, and was completed in January last, when the company took possession. Prior to that time they had occupied a frame building on Washington street, just below their present location, the property of James Teall, for which the city paid $40 per month, except for the last two months, when the rent was only $20 per month. This company has in use a second class Jeffers engine, a four-wheel hose cart and a thousand feet of hose, belonging to the city, all in good order.

Protection Engine Company No. 4.

The truck is an old one; a new one will soon be completed for their use. The company is well supplied with hooks, ladders, &c., all in good order.

Fires, Alarms, Losses, &c.

July 19th, 1864.—Alarm at 12 o'clock M., burning of a load of hay on Salmon street, in front of Patten's stable; cause, a wheel of the wagon passing over a powder flask which had been thrown into the street caused ignition. The Department was promptly out, but no labor necessary, as the fire was extinguished by running the wagon, hay and all, into the river. Loss, the load of hay, value $20.

Aug. [illegible].—Alarm at 8.30 P. M.; false alarm. Department out, but no service necessary.

Aug. 15.—Alarm at 5 o'clock P. M.; burning of the Turpentine Factory on the corner of Front and Clay streets. The Department was out in quick time, but owing to the combustible nature of the materials in the building, as well as the building itself, and the difficulty of obtaining an immediate supply of water, it was impossible to save only a small portion of the stock. An accident happened to the truck of the Hook and Ladder Company caused by the defective crossing at the junction of First and Jefferson street, and preventing the company from rendering immediate effective service. The building and most of the contents destroyed. Loss, $1,600.

Aug. 30.—Alarm at 12 o'clock, M; false alarm. Department out in full, but no service requisite.

Oct. 2.—Alarm at 11 o'clock P. M.; burning of dwelling house on First street, opposite the Penitentiary. The building was a new one, belonging to Mr. McGuire. The fire is supposed to be the work of incendiaries, as no fire had been used about the premises. The entire Fire Department promptly on the spot. For want of water they were unable to render available service with the engines. Every thing was done that could be done to save the building, but the effort was unavailing. Vigilance Hook and Ladder Company prevented damage to other property in the vicinity by tearing down the burning building. Loss $1,200.

Oct. 12.—Alarm at 6 o'clock, P. M., caused by burning out of chimney, at No. 10, Morrison street. Entire Department out, but no work necessary, and no material damage done.

Nov. 11.—Alarm at 5 o'clock, P. M. A fire was discovered in the building on the south east corner of Second and Washington streets, occupied by Mr. Mayfield. The fire originated in a room where there had been no fire kept, or a light burning. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. The Department was on the ground promptly, but the fire was extinguished by buckets of water thrown upon it. No farther service necessary. Loss, trifling.

Dec 19.—Alarm at 4 o'clock, P. M., caused by burning of a chimney on Alder street, between First and Second streets. Department promptly out, but no service necessary.

Jan. 10th, 1865.—Alarm at 1 o'clock, A. M., caused by the burning of the building on the north west corner of First and Washington streets, occupied by H. E. Cutter as a saloon. The Department was promptly on the spot, and every possible exertion was made to save the building, but with no effect. The fire, however, was arrested at that building, with slight damage to the one adjoining on the north, belonging to Opitz, Sharf & Co., who were also the owners of the building which was destroyed. The firemen made extraordinary exertions, and too much praise cannot be awarded them. Loss, $4,000.

April 26.—Alarm at 11 o'clock, P. M., false alarm. The Department was out, but no service necessary.

May 7.—Alarm at 11 o'clock, A. M., (Sunday) caused by burning of the roof of a dwelling on Morrison street, near Fourth, occupied by S. Wolf. Department promptly out, and the fire soon extinguished. Loss, $50.

May 10.—Alarm at 6 45 o'clock, P. M., caused by burning out of chimney, at the corner of Washington and Fourth streets, in the building occupied by Miss Harvey as a milliner shop. Department on the ground promptly, but no service necessary, as the fire was extinguished by a few buckets of water, without any material damage to the building.

May 16.—Alarm at 11 o'clock, P. M., false alarm. Department out, but no work required.

May 27.—Alarm at 9 30 o'clock, P. M., caused by burning out of chimney at Arrigoni's Hotel. The Department was out in force. No work.

May 30.—Alarm at 9 30 o'clock, P. M., caused by ringing of No. Four's new bell which had just been put up. Department out.

June 6.—Alarm at 10 30 o'clock, A. M., caused by burning rubbish in the rear of a building used as a Chinese wash house on A street, between Front and First streets. Department out, but as the fire was soon extinguished by buckets no further work was necessary.

June 7.—Alarm at 10 o'clock, A. M., caused by burning of the dwelling occupied by Captain Wilde on the east side of Seventh street, between Stark and Oak streets; the premises were owned by Levi Estes. The entire Department was promptly on the spot, and by great exertions of the firemen, the fire was extinguished in the building where it originated. A line was formed with 700 feet of hose stretched and water taken from the cistern at the crossing of Washington and Fifth street. Had it been necessary to have taken the water from any cistern lower down town, every building upon the block, (six dwellings, a school house and several out buildings) would doubtless have been destroyed.

The cause of the fire was a defective flue in a new chimney and a new building. The chimney was so carelessly constructed that where it passed through the roof there was no mortar between the brick, and the blaze coming through caught in the [illegible], and the embers falling to the floor below also caught there. Words fail to express the just meed of praise due to the firemen on this occasion. Insurance loss will not exceed $400.

Remarks, Recommendations, &c.

The city of Portland has reason to be proud of its Fire Department as an organization. Among its members may be found the leading men of the city.

The Professional, Mercantile, Mechanical and laboring classes, are all represented by worthy men. The greatest and almost the only strife among them seems to be, who shall accomplish most as a fireman.

They merit a great degree of consideration at the hands of the citizens generally, and I believe they receive it. A more energetic and prompt organization, will rarely if ever be found in any city.

As their chief officer I am proud and happy to state, that I have ever received from them the most courteous and gentlemanly treatment, and my orders have been promptly obeyed.

WILLAMETTE ENGINE CO NO 1.—This Company is in a prosperous condition. The engine house needs slight repairs—new flooring in part, and if the roof was painted, it would be much the better on account of it. I would recommend the purchase of 500 feet new hose for this company.

MULTNOMAH ENGINE CO, NO 2.—This Company is also in a prosperous condition. The house needs considerable repairs—new sills and floor. The cistern under the house is in a leaky condition and needs overhauling entirely. I think the establishing of a hydrant at the front of the building, would be less expensive and more serviceable than the cistern would be, were it fully repaired. I would also recommend the erection of a good, substantial addition to the main building, instead of the shed roof and temporary structure now there. The engine also needs repairs, and steps have already been taken to have it put in good order.

COLUMBIAN ENGINE CO NO 3.—This Company having just come into the occupancy of their new house, with engine and apparatus in first-rate order, have no farther immediate requirements. I would recommend the painting of the building on the outside, to prevent as far as possible the action of the elements upon it. Company prosperous.

PROTECTION ENGINE COMPANY NO 4.—This Company is in a flourishing state. It needs a new engine and apparatus entire. They ask for it. I would recommend their claim in this respect to your early and favorable consideration.

VIGILANCE HOOK AND LADDER CO NO 1.—This Company is prospering. Their house needs some repairs and particularly needs painting. The new truck for this Company is nearly completed and will soon be ready for their use. They have no immediate requirements in the way of apparatus, &c.

That our city has been highly favored in regard to fires, all will admit. And if it be taken into consideration that in the improvements so extensively being made the materials used in building are of a combustible character, it seems to me necessary that some further precautions should be taken for the prevention of fires which in many instances occur from imperfect chimneys and defective flues.

I would recommend the appointment in each ward of a Fire Warden, who should have the supervision of the erection of all chimneys in his ward, and whose duty it should be to see that they are properly constructed, and where flues only are built, to see that they have thorough and sufficient support, and also see that the Fire Ordinance be duly observed, receiving for such service such compensation as you may deem sufficient therefor.

I would notice in this connection that many of the fire alarms are caused by the improper manner in which matches are kept and used, and I would recommend that all families, stores, shops, &c., should be compelled to keep all matches for use in match safes, and that it should be the duty of the Fire Warden to see that this provision be carefully observed.

I would further recommend that all Chinese, (except merchants), should be compelled to remove from the main thoroughfares of the city, or if, as it might be in some cases not immediately practicable, from a Chinese tenant having leased property and the lease having some time to run [illegible], I would recommend the landlords be held personally responsible for all damages by fire that may occur from violation of the Fire Ordinance on the part of their Chinese tenants, [illegible] make the latter understand the requirements of the Fire Ordinance, and I believe this is the feeling of a majority of the citizens.

As most of the [illegible] and [illegible] at the intersection of streets, where the crossings are in an imperfect condition, I would suggest that the Street Commissioner be instructed to put them in proper order and [illegible], and see that they are kept so.

I would also recommend the building of new cisterns in the northern, western and southern portions of the city, and that they have each a capacity of about 12,000 gallons. In constructing them the city will get three cisterns of the same cost as the larger size, and will afford further facilities for the extinguishment of fires in the localities [illegible] hereafter.

I would further recommend the laying of water pipes to the cisterns at the crossings of Washington and Fifth streets, and by pipes connecting with the main for the purpose of filling those cisterns.

I would also recommend that all cisterns hereafter built should be of brick and with [illegible], as they are by far the most durable.

MORRIS WOLF, Member of No. 4, Protection Engine Company, was buried January 13th, 1865. Delegations from all the companies in attendance upon this occasion.

DR. CHARLES EIMERT, Member of No. 3, Columbian Engine Company, was buried June 15th, 1865. Delegations from each company in attendance on the funeral.

April 27th, 1865.—The entire Department attended in procession on the occasion of observance of funeral obsequies of the lamented Executive of the United States, Abraham Lincoln.

In conclusion, I would beg leave to express, in this my report, the thanks of the Department at large to the members of the last Council, for the uniform kindness and consideration received at their hands, and I deem it appropriate, at the same time, to express my own thanks as Chief Engineer to my Assistants, for their able co-operation in aiding me to carry out what was considered for the best interests of the city. And to the different companies I would also render my thanks for the prompt and efficient manner in which my instructions have been carried out. I also would express the hope that the same good feeling towards the Fire Department may be manifested by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully submitted

JOSEPH BUCHTEL,
Chief Engineer of Portland Fire Department.

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.
